excites a particular blend of fear and fascination, the break propagating at many times the speed of sound, splitting into progressively smaller pieces that jingle and pop and leap at your legs, frozen in mid-step, long after the first boom has ceased to roar down your auditory nerve. Blog of a Bookslut - Thanks for this essay! I think there is a strong age component in canon reading. In high school (German Gymnasium), I only took a basic course in German literature, which included shorter works from the 18th-20th century, and a few 20th century novels (I remember Professor Unrat by Heinrich Mann and Homo Faber by Max Frisch, both of them very good choices for teenagers!), while some of my ...
